

Dionack - Fin eart proof

Faculty

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR

J. Lingo

BJ _____

JL _____

DT _____

NR _____

SP _____

HW _____

EC _____ ✓

TC _____ ✓

Dimock Gallery

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

J. Lingo

SUBJECT: _____ WRITER: _____

DATE RELEASED: _____ NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)

LOCAL WEEKLY (22)

District (11)

Suburban Maryland (8)

Suburban Virginia (3)

LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)

LOCAL TELEVISION (8)

PSA (47)

NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)

TALK SHOWS (17)

TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)

INDIVIDUALS (3)

INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)

BUSINESS (12)

COLLEGE PAPERS (16)

CONSUMER (5)

DANCE (14)

DRAMA (8)

EDUCATION (17)

EDUCATION VIP (14)

ENERGY (12)

ENGINEERING (5)

FILM (4)

FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)

HISTORICAL (3)

LAW (15)

LIBRARIES (7)

MUSIC (4)

POLICY STUDIES (5)

PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)

SCIENCE (12)

TECHNOLOGY (9)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)

WOMEN (18)

OTHER: ()

4 copies to L. Miller
Dimock Gallery

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: MARCH 2, 1984

CONTACT: JANE LINGO
676-6460 (office)
234-3453 (evening)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW DIMOCK GALLERY - FINE ARTS FACULTY EXHIBITION

WHAT: PAINTINGS, PRINTS, SCULPTURE, CERAMICS,
DRAWING AND PHOTOGRAPHY

WHO: GW FULL-TIME FINE ARTS FACULTY MEMBERS

WHEN: THURSDAY, MARCH 8, THROUGH WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4
10 A.M. TO 5 P.M. MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY

WHERE: DIMOCK GALLERY
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
OFF THE LOWER LOUNGE OF LISNER AUDITORIUM
21ST AND H STREETS, N.W.

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The Dimock Gallery, Art Department, The George Washington University, will present an exhibition of works by members of GW's full-time fine arts faculty from Thursday, March 8, through Wednesday, April 4.

The exhibition will include paintings, prints, sculpture, ceramics, drawing and photography.

Faculty artists whose works will be shown are Constance Costigan, H.I. Gates, Fuller Griffith, Jerry Lake, Sam Molina, Turker Ozdogan, Arthur Hall Smith, Jeffrey Stephanic, Douglas Teller, William Woodward and Frank Wright.

The Dimock Gallery, off the lower lounge of Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Sts., N.W., is a short walk from the Foggy Bottom/GWU Metro stop. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

MAILING DATE: MARCH 2, 1984

CONTACT: JANE LINGO
676-6460 (office)
234-3453 (evening)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW DIMOCK GALLERY - FINE ARTS FACULTY EXHIBITION

WHAT: PAINTINGS, PRINTS, SCULPTURE, CERAMICS,
DRAWING AND PHOTOGRAPHY

WHO: GW FULL-TIME FINE ARTS FACULTY MEMBERS

WHEN: THURSDAY, MARCH 8, THROUGH WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4
10 A.M. TO 5 P.M. MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY

WHERE: DIMOCK GALLERY
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
OFF THE LOWER LOUNGE OF LISNER AUDITORIUM
21ST AND H STREETS, N.W.

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The Dimock Gallery, Art Department, The George Washington University, will present an exhibition of works by members of GW's full-time fine arts faculty from Thursday, March 8, through Wednesday, April 4.

The exhibition will include paintings, prints, sculpture, ceramics, drawing and photography.

Faculty artists whose works will be shown are Constance Costigan, H.I. Gates, Fuller Griffith, Jerry Lake, Sam Molina, Turker Ozdogan, Arthur Hall Smith, Jeffrey Stephanic, Douglas Teller, William Woodward and Frank Wright.

The Dimock Gallery, off the lower lounge of Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Sts., N.W., is a short walk from the Foggy Bottom/GWU Metro stop. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 5, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JEREMY TUNSTALL PRESENTS PAPER AT GW

Jeremy Tunstall, noted author and communications specialist, is speaking at The George Washington University on Thursday, March 8, from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., in the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W., Room 426. Mr. Tunstall's presentation, entitled, "U.S., French and British National Communications Policies: A Tendency to Self-Caricature?," is the fourth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications. Admission is free.

Mr. Tunstall is a visiting scholar from the United Kingdom's City University of London. He is the author of several books including "The Media Are American," (Columbia University Press, 1977); "Media Made in California," (Oxford University Press, 1981); and most recently "The Media in Britain," (Columbia University Press, 1983). Mr. Tunstall is a professor of sociology at City University, and has been researching American communications policies while at GW.

##

proof

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR NR

BJ /

JL /

DT /

NR /

SP /

HW /

EC /

TC /

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Telecommunications WRITER: Reder

DATE RELEASED: 5 March 84 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)

LOCAL WEEKLY (22)

District (11)

Suburban Maryland (8)

Suburban Virginia (3)

✓ LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

✓ LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)

LOCAL TELEVISION (8)

PSA (47)

NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)

TALK SHOWS (17)

TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

✓ CAMPUS LIST (11)

INDIVIDUALS (3)

INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)

BUSINESS (12)

✓ COLLEGE PAPERS (16)

CONSUMER (5)

DANCE (14)

DRAMA (8)

EDUCATION (17)

EDUCATION VIP (14)

ENERGY (12)

ENGINEERING (5)

FILM (4)

FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)

HISTORICAL (3)

✓ ~~WATER~~ LAW (15)

LIBRARIES (7)

MUSIC (4)

✓ POLICY STUDIES (5)

PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)

SCIENCE (12)

TECHNOLOGY (9)

✓ TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)

WOMEN (18)

OTHER: ()

MAILING DATE: March 5, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JEREMY TUNSTALL PRESENTS PAPER AT GW

Jeremy Tunstall, noted author and communications specialist, is speaking at The George Washington University on Thursday, March 8, from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., in the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W., Room 426. Mr. Tunstall's presentation, entitled, "U.S., French and British National Communications Policies: A Tendency to Self-Caricature?," is the fourth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications. Admission is free.

Mr. Tunstall is a visiting scholar from the United Kingdom's City University of London. He is the author of several books including "The Media Are American," (Columbia University Press, 1977); "Media Made in California," (Oxford University Press, 1981); and most recently "The Media in Britain," (Columbia University Press, 1983). Mr. Tunstall is a professor of sociology at City University, and has been researching American communications policies while at GW.

##

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 5, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JEREMY TUNSTALL PRESENTS PAPER AT GW

Jeremy Tunstall, noted author and communications specialist, is speaking at The George Washington University on Thursday, March 8, from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., in the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W., Room 426. Mr. Tunstall's presentation, entitled, "U.S., French and British National Communications Policies: A Tendency to Self-Caricature?," is the fourth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications. Admission is free.

Mr. Tunstall is a visiting scholar from the United Kingdom's City University of London. He is the author of several books including "The Media Are American," (Columbia University Press, 1977); "Media Made in California," (Oxford University Press, 1981); and most recently "The Media in Britain," (Columbia University Press, 1983). Mr. Tunstall is a professor of sociology at City University, and has been researching American communications policies while at GW.

##

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 5, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JEREMY TUNSTALL PRESENTS PAPER AT GW

Jeremy Tunstall, noted author and communications specialist, is speaking at The George Washington University on Thursday, March 8, from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., in the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W., Room 426. Mr. Tunstall's presentation, entitled, "U.S., French and British National Communications Policies: A Tendency to Self-Caricature?," is the fourth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications. Admission is free.

Mr. Tunstall is a visiting scholar from the United Kingdom's City University of London. He is the author of several books including "The Media Are American," (Columbia University Press, 1977); "Media Made in California," (Oxford University Press, 1981); and most recently "The Media in Britain," (Columbia University Press, 1983). Mr. Tunstall is a professor of sociology at City University, and has been researching American communications policies while at GW.

##

proof

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR

CEO XIR

BJ

JL

DT

NR

SP

HW

EC

TC

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: SGBA - CEP program WRITER: Reder

DATE RELEASED: 6/1 March 81 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

- ✓ LOCAL DAILY (2)
- ✓ LOCAL WEEKLY (22)
 - District (11)
 - Suburban Maryland (8)
 - Suburban Virginia (3)
- ✓ LOCAL WIRE (2)
- NATIONAL DAILY (35)
- NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)
- NATIONAL WIRE (2)
- NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)
- LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

- LOCAL RADIO (37)
- LOCAL TELEVISION (8)
- PSA (47)
- NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)
- TALK SHOWS (17)
- TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

- CAMPUS LIST (11)
- INDIVIDUALS (3)
- INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

- ART (19)
 - ✓ BUSINESS (12)
 - COLLEGE PAPERS (16)
 - CONSUMER (5)
 - DANCE (14)
 - DRAMA (8)
 - EDUCATION (17)
 - EDUCATION VIP (14)
 - ENERGY (12)
 - ENGINEERING (5)
 - FILM (4)
 - FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)
 - HISTORICAL (3)
 - LAW (15)
 - LIBRARIES (7)
 - MUSIC (4)
 - POLICY STUDIES (5)
 - PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)
 - SCIENCE (12)
 - TECHNOLOGY (9)
 - TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)
 - WOMEN (18)
 - OTHER: ()
-
-

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: 3/6/84

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OPM APPROVES GW CED PROGRAM

The Office of Personnel Management has approved George Washington University's Contemporary Executive Development program as an alternative to its own Executive Development Seminar. The CED program is offered through the Office of Research and Continuing Professional Education, a division of the School of Government and Business Administration.

The CED program is unique among a handful of approved alternatives by virtue of its duration. It is an intensive six week course designed to meet the needs of federal managers; candidates, or recent appointees to the Senior Executive Service; and managers from the private sector. The seminars are scheduled in the afternoon and evening, two to three times each week for a total of 90 hours, thereby enabling participants to continue their professional responsibilities throughout the program.

(more)

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: 3/6/84

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OPM APPROVES GW CED PROGRAM

The Office of Personnel Management has approved George Washington University's Contemporary Executive Development program as an alternative to its own Executive Development Seminar. The CED program is offered through the Office of Research and Continuing Professional Education, a division of the School of Government and Business Administration.

The CED program is unique among a handful of approved alternatives by virtue of its duration. It is an intensive six week course designed to meet the needs of federal managers; candidates, or recent appointees to the Senior Executive Service; and managers from the private sector. The seminars are scheduled in the afternoon and evening, two to three times each week for a total of 90 hours, thereby enabling participants to continue their professional responsibilities throughout the program.

(more)

MAILING DATE: 3/6/84

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OPM APPROVES GW CED PROGRAM

The Office of Personnel Management has approved George Washington University's Contemporary Executive Development program as an alternative to its own Executive Development Seminar. The CED program is offered through the Office of Research and Continuing Professional Education, a division of the School of Government and Business Administration.

The CED program is unique among a handful of approved alternatives by virtue of its duration. It is an intensive six week course designed to meet the needs of federal managers; candidates, or recent appointees to the Senior Executive Service; and managers from the private sector. The seminars are scheduled in the afternoon and evening, two to three times each week for a total of 90 hours, thereby enabling participants to continue their professional responsibilities throughout the program.

(more)

There are three CED programs slated for the academic year 1984 - 1985; the first will begin on September 18. For further information contact: William Robinson, Program Director, 676-7064.

##

There are three CED programs slated for the academic year 1984 - 1985; the first will begin on September 18. For further information contact: William Robinson, Program Director, 676-7064.

##

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 7, 1984

CONTACT: Barry Jagoda
(202) 676-6467

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIAN NAMED AT GEORGE WASHINGTON

Dr. Sharon J. Rogers has been named Librarian at The George Washington University by President Lloyd H. Elliott. Associate Dean of Libraries and Learning Resources at Bowling Green State University since 1982, Dr. Rogers is also President-elect of the Association of College and Research Libraries, the professional organization of librarians in higher education.

"Dr. Rogers has all the qualifications and experience needed to head up our excellent University Library. I look forward to her arrival, and have high expectations for the leadership she will provide in the continuation of our effort to build an even stronger facility," said President Elliott on announcing the appointment, which will be effective July 1, 1984.

In accepting the position, Dr. Rogers said, "I am very impressed with the strength of the University's commitment to enhance Gelman Library, and I look forward to working with the entire campus community to further integrate the library into research and teaching activities."

(more)

Dr. Rogers also served as library Director of Public Services and held the faculty rank of Associate Professor of Library Sciences during her tenure at Bowling Green, which began in 1980. Prior to that she was Coordinator of Library Programs and Associate Professor of Library Administration at the University of Toledo in Ohio, from 1977-1980.

Rogers received the Ph.D in Sociology at Washington State University in 1976. From 1972-1976, she had been an instructor in social sciences in the School of Business Administration at Alfred University in Alfred, N. Y., and was a National Science Foundation Trainee in the Department of Sociology at Washington State University from 1969-72.

After receiving the M.A. in Library Science from the University of Minnesota in 1967, Rogers was Reference Librarian and Head, Government Documents section, in the Washington State University Library system. She received the B. A., summa cum laude, from Bethel College, in St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1963.

In addition to her leadership role in the Association of College and Research Libraries, Dr. Rogers is a member of the American Library Association, the American Sociological Association, and the American Political Science Association. She has also written extensively on library science topics.

-- end --

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 7, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AREA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONERS SPEAK OUT AT GW

Three representatives from the Public Service Commissions of D.C. and Maryland are featured speakers at the fifth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications at George Washington University, Thursday, March 22 from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., Room 426 of the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W. Admission is free.

Melvin Dowie, Executive Director, D.C. Public Service Commission; Kenneth Hurwitz, Executive Director, and Sheldon Schwitzer, economist, both with the Maryland Public Service Commission, will discuss the emerging role of state public utilities in the regulation of local telephone rates, service, and equipment.

For further information call 676-7062.

##

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Telecommunications WRITER: Reder

DATE RELEASED: 3/7/84 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

- ✓ LOCAL DAILY (2)
- ✓ LOCAL WEEKLY (22)
 - District (11)
 - Suburban Maryland (8)
 - Suburban Virginia (3)
- ✓ LOCAL WIRE (2)
- NATIONAL DAILY (35)
- NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)
- NATIONAL WIRE (2)
- NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)
- ✓ LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

proof

TELECOMMUNICATION
PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR NR

BJ _____

JL _____

DT _____

NR _____

SP _____

HW _____

EC _____

TC _____

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

- ART (19)
- BUSINESS (12)
- COLLEGE PAPERS (16)
- CONSUMER (5)
- DANCE (14)
- DRAMA (8)
- EDUCATION (17)
- EDUCATION VIP (14)
- ENERGY (12)
- ENGINEERING (5)
- FILM (4)
- FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)
- HISTORICAL (3)
- LAW (15)
- LIBRARIES (7)
- MUSIC (4)
- POLICY STUDIES (5)
- PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)
- SCIENCE (12)
- TECHNOLOGY (9)
- ✓ TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)
- WOMEN (18)
- OTHER: ()

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 7, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AREA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONERS SPEAK OUT AT GW

Three representatives from the Public Service Commissions of D.C. and Maryland are featured speakers at the fifth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications at George Washington University, Thursday, March 22 from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., Room 426 of the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W. Admission is free.

Melvin Doxie, Executive Director, D.C. Public Service Commission; Kenneth Hurwitz, Executive Director, and Sheldon Schwitzer, economist, both with the Maryland Public Service Commission, will discuss the emerging role of state public utilities in the regulation of local telephone rates, service, and equipment.

For further information call 676-7062.

##

MAILING DATE: March 7, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AREA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONERS SPEAK OUT AT GW

Three representatives from the Public Service Commissions of D.C. and Maryland are featured speakers at the fifth in a series of informal lectures hosted by the Center for Telecommunications at George Washington University, Thursday, March 22 from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m., Room 426 of the GW Marvin Center, 800 21st Street, N.W. Admission is free.

Melvin Doxie, Executive Director, D.C. Public Service Commission; Kenneth Hurwitz, Executive Director, and Sheldon Schwitzer, economist, both with the Maryland Public Service Commission, will discuss the emerging role of state public utilities in the regulation of local telephone rates, service, and equipment.

For further information call 676-7062.

##

proof

TELECOMMUNICATION

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR

NR

BJ

JL

DT

NR

SP

HW

EC

TC

proof

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR LIBRARY
BJ

BJ _____

JL _____

DT _____

NR _____

SP _____

HW _____

EC _____

TC _____

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: LIBRARIAN WRITER: Jaguar
DATE RELEASED: 3-7-84 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)
LOCAL WEEKLY (22)
 District (11)
 Suburban Maryland (8)
 Suburban Virginia (3)
LOCAL WIRE (2)
NATIONAL DAILY (35)
NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)
NATIONAL WIRE (2)
NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)
LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)
LOCAL TELEVISION (8)
PSA (47)
NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)
TALK SHOWS (17)
TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)
INDIVIDUALS (3)
INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)
BUSINESS (12)
COLLEGE PAPERS (16)
CONSUMER (5)
DANCE (14)
DRAMA (8)
EDUCATION (17)
EDUCATION VIP (14)
ENERGY (12)
ENGINEERING (5)
FILM (4)
FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)
HISTORICAL (3)
LAW (15)
LIBRARIES (7)
MUSIC (4)
POLICY STUDIES (5)
PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)
SCIENCE (12)
TECHNOLOGY (9)
TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)
WOMEN (18)
OTHER: ()

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 7, 1984

CONTACT: Barry Jagoda
(202) 676-6467

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIAN NAMED AT GEORGE WASHINGTON

Dr. Sharon J. Rogers has been named Librarian at The George Washington University by President Lloyd H. Elliott. Associate Dean of Libraries and Learning Resources at Bowling Green State University since 1982, Dr. Rogers is also President-elect of the Association of College and Research Libraries, the professional organization of librarians in higher education.

"Dr. Rogers has all the qualifications and experience needed to head up our excellent University Library. I look forward to her arrival, and have high expectations for the leadership she will provide in the continuation of our effort to build an even stronger facility," said President Elliott on announcing the appointment, which will be effective July 1, 1984.

In accepting the position, Dr. Rogers said, "I am very impressed with the strength of the University's commitment to enhance Gelman Library, and I look forward to working with the entire campus community to further integrate the library into research and teaching activities."

(more)

MAILING DATE: March 7, 1984

CONTACT: Barry Jagoda
(202) 676-6467

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIAN NAMED AT GEORGE WASHINGTON

Dr. Sharon J. Rogers has been named Librarian at The George Washington University by President Lloyd H. Elliott. Associate Dean of Libraries and Learning Resources at Bowling Green State University since 1982, Dr. Rogers is also President-elect of the Association of College and Research Libraries, the professional organization of librarians in higher education.

"Dr. Rogers has all the qualifications and experience needed to head up our excellent University Library. I look forward to her arrival, and have high expectations for the leadership she will provide in the continuation of our effort to build an even stronger facility," said President Elliott on announcing the appointment, which will be effective July 1, 1984.

In accepting the position, Dr. Rogers said, "I am very impressed with the strength of the University's commitment to enhance Gelman Library, and I look forward to working with the entire campus community to further integrate the library into research and teaching activities."

(more)

Dr. Rogers also served as library Director of Public Services and held the faculty rank of Associate Professor of Library Sciences during her tenure at Bowling Green, which began in 1980. Prior to that she was Coordinator of Library Programs and Associate Professor of Library Administration at the University of Toledo in Ohio, from 1977-1980.

Rogers received the Ph.D in Sociology at Washington State University in 1976. From 1972-1976, she had been an instructor in social sciences in the School of Business Administration at Alfred University in Alfred, N. Y., and was a National Science Foundation Trainee in the Department of Sociology at Washington State University from 1969-72.

After receiving the M.A. in Library Science from the University of Minnesota in 1967, Rogers was Reference Librarian and Head, Government Documents section, in the Washington State University Library system. She received the B. A., summa cum laude, from Bethel College, in St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1963.

In addition to her leadership role in the Association of College and Research Libraries, Dr. Rogers is a member of the American Library Association, the American Sociological Association, and the American Political Science Association. She has also written extensively on library science topics.

-- end --

Dr. Rogers also served as library Director of Public Services and held the faculty rank of Associate Professor of Library Sciences during her tenure at Bowling Green, which began in 1980. Prior to that she was Coordinator of Library Programs and Associate Professor of Library Administration at the University of Toledo in Ohio, from 1977-1980.

Rogers received the Ph.D in Sociology at Washington State University in 1976. From 1972-1976, she had been an instructor in social sciences in the School of Business Administration at Alfred University in Alfred, N. Y., and was a National Science Foundation Trainee in the Department of Sociology at Washington State University from 1969-72.

After receiving the M.A. in Library Science from the University of Minnesota in 1967, Rogers was Reference Librarian and Head, Government Documents section, in the Washington State University Library system. She received the B. A., summa cum laude, from Bethel College, in St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1963.

In addition to her leadership role in the Association of College and Research Libraries, Dr. Rogers is a member of the American Library Association, the American Sociological Association, and the American Political Science Association. She has also written extensively on library science topics.

-- end --

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460
MAILING DATE: March 9, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR RELEASE MONDAY, MARCH 26

DETAILS OF NEW STUDY ON CORRUPTION IN CONGRESS
TO BE RELEASED BY AMITAI ETZIONI ON MARCH 26

Political money in Washington is being used to buy legislation--both wholesale and retail--according to a study by Amitai Etzioni, former White House Senior Advisor and now a University Professor at The George Washington University. The study, titled "Capital Corruption," will be released Monday, March 26.

Wholesale refers to the use of campaign funds that special interests target to defeat those who do not serve them and use to elect more compliant legislators. Unlike previous reports that most of this money goes to Democrats, the Etzioni study reveals new statistics which show that the main beneficiaries are actually conservative and Republican candidates, while the main losers are liberals and Democrats. Labor political action committees (PACs) however, tilt the scale the other way. The study also shows that special interest PACs outspend political parties roughly four to one, and while money does not guarantee the election of anyone, statistics to be released show that it gives beneficiaries a heavy edge.

(more)

Retail refers to getting an elected member of Congress to support specific items of legislation favorable to a special interest. Etzioni's detailed analysis of how it's done shows how a PAC can tie its contributions to special favors--despite bribery laws and without technically violating them--thus, opening the doors to "legalized bribery."

In analyzing the new ways of political corruption in Washington, Etzioni draws on some previously reported incidents and several new ones he discovered:

- *A member of Congress who actively solicited "business" from illegal immigrants, but whose case was dismissed because he hid behind a little known clause in the Constitution. (The FBI and Department of Justice have since, Etzioni reports, been discouraged from going after other members of Congress.)

- *A peace group and a corporation which "bundle" contributions to get around limitations on contributions.

- *A vote by Congress to shorten the statute of limitations on criminal violations of the Campaign Finance Act for its members to three years. Also, to allow its members to pocket surplus campaign funds, an act forbidden to challengers.

Legitimized corruption strikes at the core of government and is undermining the system's ability to function fairly and effectively, "Capital Corruption" concludes. A prime example is the U.S Tax Code--which lists more than 1,800 exclusions in the 1040 dictionary of deductions--most which represent concessions to one interest group or another. While some tax breaks do apply to large segments of the population, most go disproportionately to those who are better off. According to one estimate, of $156.6 billion in revenue lost through 33 loopholes in the 1982 tax law, $52.3 billion helped taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes of $50,000 or more. In other words, 33.4 percent of the benefits went to the top 4.4 percent of taxpayers.

(more)

National security is also mangled by interest groups, Etzioni shows. "Just as the tax code has special interests written into it, to the point where an overall tax concept is no longer visible, so our defense posture reflects the outcome of contractors' lobbying, service rivalry, and pork barrelling--rather than a reasoned analysis of a coherent posture," he writes. "Interest groups have penetrated national security decision making to the point where independent or professional decision making geared to national goals cannot prevail." Instead of concentrating on policy debates--such as the desirable size of overall defense spending, military lobbies concentrate on marketing their own products. Etzioni points to six outcomes of this:

- *There is a strong bias toward procuring weapons, which contributes to a tendency to neglect development of a security strategy.
- *The purchase of inferior weapons and production of obsolete weapons when superior ones are available.
- *A bias in favor of big ticket items over simpler, less costly ones.
- *A tendency to buy new items rather than maintain the ones the military already has.
- *Inclinations to favor hardware over personnel, nuclear over conventional.
- *An inflation of the total defense budget which undercuts the economy, social order, and its own effectiveness.

Etzioni stresses that reforms are needed to reverse the plutocratic tendencies, curb interest groups, and overcome PACs. While there are no cure-alls, he believes progress can be made to curb political corruption if several measures are introduced as a mutually reinforcing package and include:

- *The public financing of Congressional elections, as is now available to presidential candidates.

(more)

*Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000.

*Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government.

*Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less).

*Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Etzioni stresses that reforms can only be adopted as a package; an analysis of those suggested previously and currently under consideration by Congress shows that none will work and instead, will push money-in-politics into other channels.

"The sum of the parts of our political system has become much greater than the whole," he writes. "And the invasion of the public realm by interest groups must be curbed."

##

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 16, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GERALD MOSSINGHOFF TO SPEAK AT GW ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Gerald J. Mossinghoff, assistant secretary of commerce and commissioner of patents and trademarks, will speak on "International Protection of New Technology," at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon on Tuesday, April 3 at the Washington Marriott (22nd and M Streets, NW).

The luncheon is jointly sponsored by The George Washington University Law Alumni Association and the School of Government and Business Administration Alumni Association.

A 1961 GW Law School graduate, Mr. Mossinghoff has served as commissioner of patents and trademarks since July 1981. A former patent examiner, Mossinghoff has held several senior positions at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. In September 1983, he was elected chairman of the General Assembly of the World Intellectual Property (patents and trademarks) Organization, a specialized agency of the United Nations. He recently returned from a world conference held in Geneva on the international Protection of intellectual property.

(more)

The GW Law Association will honor Mr. Mossinghoff at the luncheon by presenting to him its Professional Achievement Award for his outstanding career in government service and continued support of the law school and law association.

A 30 minute social period precedes the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. The luncheon cost is $11 per person. For more information, call 676-4999.

##

proof

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR DE7

BJ _____

JL _____

DT _____

NR _____

SP _____

HW _____

EC _____

TC _____

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: _____ WRITER: _____

DATE RELEASED: _____ NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)

LOCAL WEEKLY (22)

District (11)

Suburban Maryland (8)

Suburban Virginia (3)

LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)

LOCAL TELEVISION (8)

PSA (47)

NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)

TALK SHOWS (17)

TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)

INDIVIDUALS (3)

INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)

BUSINESS (12) IN TOWN

COLLEGE PAPERS (16)

CONSUMER (5)

DANCE (14)

DRAMA (8)

EDUCATION (17)

EDUCATION VIP (14)

ENERGY (12)

ENGINEERING (5)

FILM (4)

FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)

HISTORICAL (3)

LAW (15) IN TOWN

LIBRARIES (7)

MUSIC (4)

POLICY STUDIES (5)

PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)

SCIENCE (12)

TECHNOLOGY (9)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)

WOMEN (18)

OTHER: ()

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 16, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GERALD MOSSINGHOFF TO SPEAK AT GW ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Gerald J. Mossinghoff, assistant secretary of commerce and commissioner of patents and trademarks, will speak on "International Protection of New Technology," at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon on Tuesday, April 3 at the Washington Marriott (22nd and M Streets, NW).

The luncheon is jointly sponsored by The George Washington University Law Alumni Association and the School of Government and Business Administration Alumni Association.

A 1961 GW Law School graduate, Mr. Mossinghoff has served as commissioner of patents and trademarks since July 1981. A former patent examiner, Mossinghoff has held several senior positions at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. In September 1983, he was elected chairman of the General Assembly of the World Intellectual Property (patents and trademarks) Organization, a specialized

(more)

MAILING DATE: March 16, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GERALD MOSSINGHOFF TO SPEAK AT GW ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Gerald J. Mossinghoff, assistant secretary of commerce and commissioner of patents and trademarks, will speak on "International Protection of New Technology," at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon on Tuesday, April 3 at the Washington Marriott (22nd and M Streets, NW).

The luncheon is jointly sponsored by The George Washington University Law Alumni Association and the School of Government and Business Administration Alumni Association.

A 1961 GW Law School graduate, Mr. Mossinghoff has served as commissioner of patents and trademarks since July 1981. A former patent examiner, Mossinghoff has held several senior positions at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. In September 1983, he was elected chairman of the General Assembly of the World Intellectual Property (patents and trademarks) Organization, a specialized agency of the United Nations. He recently returned from a world conference held in Geneva on the international Protection of intellectual property.

(more)

The GW Law Association will honor Mr. Mossinghoff at the luncheon by presenting to him its Professional Achievement Award for his outstanding career in government service and continued support of the law school and law association.

A 30 minute social period precedes the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. The luncheon cost is $11 per person. For more information, call 676-4999.

##

agency of the United Nations. He recently returned from a world conference held in Geneva on the international Protection of intellectual property.

The GW Law Association will honor Mr. Mossinghoff at the luncheon by presenting to him its Professional Achievement Award for his outstanding career in government service and continued support of the law school and law association.

A 30 minute social period precedes the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. The luncheon cost is $11 per person. For more information, call 676-4999.

##

PRINT BUREAUS AND MAJOR DAILIES + NEWS MAGAZINES

ORIGINAL MAILING LIST for March 9
Release

ETZIONI MAILING: (Invites to March 26 gathering)

*Newsweek

1750 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20006
Howard Fineman
Gloria Borger
John Lindsay

*Time Magazine

888 16th Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20006
Neil MacNeil
Evan Thomas

*U.S. News & World Report

2300 N Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20037
Kathryn Johnson
Robert Barr
James Hildreth

*Associated Press

2021 K Street, NW
#606
Washington, D.C. 20006
Tom Raum/ Steve Komarow

*United Press International

1400 Eye Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20005
Steve Gerstel
Patrick Killen

*Reuters

1333 H Street, NW
410
Washington, D.C. 20005
Carol Giacomo
Chris Hanson

*Copley News Service

1100 National Press Bldg.
Washington, D.C. 20045
Otto Kreisher
Robert Estill

*Cox Newspapers

2000 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
#1000
Washington, D.C. 20006
Andrew Glass

*Donrey News Bureau

1068 National Press Bldg.
Washington, D.C. 20045
Eric Ruff

*Gannett News Service

1627 K Street, NW
#1200
Washington, D.C. 20006
Chris Collins
Pat Ordovensky

*Hearst Newspapers

1701 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20006
Robert Thompson

*Knight Ridder Newspapers

1319 F Street, NW
#600
Washington, D.C. 20004
Kent Bernhard

*Newhouse News Service

1750 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20006
Miles Benson

*Scripps-Howard Newspapers

1110 Vermont Ave., NW
#610
Washington, D.C. 20005
Doug Harbrecht

*Thomson Newspapers

506 National Place
1331 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20004
Richard Maloy

*Harte-Hanks Communications

292 National Press Bldg.
Washington, D.C. 20045
Bill Garland

*Los Angeles Times
 1875 Eye Street, NW
 #1100
 Washington, D.C. 20006
 Paul Houston

*Chicago Tribune
 1707 H Street, NW
 #900
 Washington, D.C. 20006
 Dorothy Collin

*Baltimore Sun
 1627 K Street, NW
 #1000
 Washington, D.C. 20006
 Nancy Schwerzler

*Boston Globe
 1750 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
 #318
 Washington, D.C. 20006
 David Rogers
 Susan Trausch

*Christian Science Monitor
 910 Sixteenth St., NW
 Washington, D.C. 20006
 John Dillon
 Julia Malone
 Richard L. Strout

*Louisville Courier Journal
 968 National Press Bldg.
 Washington, D.C. 20045
 Joel Brinkley

NY Times

*Detroit News
 425 National Press Bldg.
 Washington, D.C. 20045
 Gary Schuster

*St. Louis Post-Dispatch
 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
 Washington, D.C. 20006
 Robert Adams

*New York Daily News
 2101 L Street, NW
 #407
 Washington, D.C. 20037
 Frank Van Riper

*Cleveland Plain Dealer
 930 National Press Bldg
 Washington, D.C. 20045
 Thomas Brazaitis

*Dallas Morning News
 1012 National Press Bldg.
 Washington, D.C. 20045
 Mark Nelson

*Dallas Times Herald
 1202 National Press Bldg.
 Washington, D.C. 20045
 Paul West

*Milwaukee Journal
 259 National Press Bldg.
 Washington, D.C. 20045
 John W. Kole

BROADCAST BUREAUS

ABC News (TV)
1717 DeSales St., NW
Washington, DC 20036

Charles Gibson

ABC Radio News
1717 DeSales St., NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Robin Sproul

CBS News
2020 M Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Name

CBS Radio News
2020 M Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Anna Mae Sokusky

Mutual Broadcasting System
1755 S. Jefferson Davis Highway
Arlington, VA 22202

Ross Simpson

NBC News (TV)
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

John Dancy

Margie Lehrman (Today)

NBC Radio News
1331 H Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20005

Mary Dorman

National Public Radio
2025 M Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Robert Siegel

Associated Press Radio Network
1825 K Street, NW
#615

Washington, D.C. 20006

Loise Schiavone (Senate)

Nora Wolf (House)

Cable News Network
2133 Wisconsin Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20007

Carol Wiik
Mark Walton

Cox Broadcasting
400 N. Capitol St.,
#169
Washington, D.C. 20001

Andrew Cassells

Pacifica News Service
425 13th St., NW
#334
Washington, DC 20004

Tim Frasca

RKO General Broadcasting
1750 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
#1315
Washington, D.C. 20006

RKO Radio Netowrk
1776 G Street, NW
Washington, DC 20006

Richard Rieman

Storer Broadcasting
400 N. Capitol St.
#165
Washington, D.C. 20001

Norman O. Waggy

UPI Radio
1400 Eye St., NW.
8th Floor
Washington, DC 20005

Rob Navias
Pye Chamberlayne

Do Not Send Yet

OTHERS:

Walterene Swanston (assignment)
WDVM-TV
40th & Brandywine St., NW
Washington, DC 20016

WJLA-TV
4461 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20008

Doug Nielson (assignment)

WRC-TV
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20016

Mike Kiernan (assignment)

WTTG-TV
5151 Wisconsin Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20016

(Jan Richards)

WMAL Radio
4400 Jenifer St., NW
Washington, DC 20015

Pat Anastasi (assignment)

WTOP Radio
4646 40th St., NW
Washington, DC 20016

Ann Colt (assignment)

WRC Radio
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20016

John Calhoun (assignment)

OTHERS:

Interview/Talk/ETC.

Panorama
WTTG-TV
5151 Wisconsin Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Roberta Dougherty
CBS Morning News
524 West 57th Street
New York, New York 10019

Ellen Sanger
ABC Good Morning America
Seven West 66th Street
New York, New York 10023

Steve Friedman
NBC Today Show
30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York, New York 10112

Mary Hilliard
CNN Take Two
One World Trade Center
Suite 2007
New York, New York 10048

Cheryl Martin
Channel 4 News Cover Story
WRC-TV
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Margie Lehrman
Today Show/NBC News
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Gail Evans
Cable News Network
1050 Techwood Dr., NW
Atlanta, GA 30318

→ Get the March 16

"BACKGROUND"--COLUMNISTS & OTHER REPORTERS

Wall Street Journal
1025 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20036

Albert Hunt
Dennis Farney
Robert Merry

New York Times
1000 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, DC. 20036

Martin Tolchin
Steven Roberts
David Shribman
Monica Barthowski

Washington Post
1150 15th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20071

TR Reid
Helen Dewar

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 16, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR RELEASE MONDAY, MARCH 26

DETAILS OF NEW STUDY ON CORRUPTION IN CONGRESS
TO BE RELEASED BY AMITAI ETZIONI ON MARCH 26

Political money in Washington is being used to buy legislation--both wholesale and retail--according to a study by Amitai Etzioni, former White House Senior Advisor and now a University Professor at The George Washington University. The study, titled "Capital Corruption," will be released Monday, March 26.

Wholesale refers to the use of campaign funds that special interests target to defeat those who do not serve them and use to elect more compliant legislators. Unlike previous reports that most of this money goes to Democrats, the Etzioni study reveals new statistics which show that the main beneficiaries are actually conservative and Republican candidates, while the main losers are liberals and Democrats. Labor political action committees (PACs) however, tilt the scale the other way. The study also shows that special interest PACs outspend political parties roughly four to one, and while money does not guarantee the election of anyone, statistics to be released show that it gives beneficiaries a heavy edge.

(more)

Retail refers to getting an elected member of Congress to support specific items of legislation favorable to a special interest. Etzioni's detailed analysis of how it's done shows how a PAC can tie its contributions to special favors--despite bribery laws and without technically violating them--thus, opening the doors to "legalized bribery."

In analyzing the new ways of political corruption in Washington, Etzioni draws on some previously reported incidents and several new ones he discovered:

- *A member of Congress who actively solicited "business" from illegal immigrants, but whose case was dismissed because he hid behind a little known clause in the Constitution. (The FBI and Department of Justice have since, Etzioni reports, been discouraged from going after other members of Congress.)

- *A peace group and a corporation which "bundle" contributions to get around limitations on contributions.

- *A vote by Congress to shorten the statute of limitations on criminal violations of the Campaign Finance Act for its members to three years. Also, to allow its members to pocket surplus campaign funds, an act forbidden to challengers.

Legitimized corruption strikes at the core of government and is undermining the system's ability to function fairly and effectively, "Capital Corruption" concludes. A prime example is the U.S Tax Code--which lists more than 1,800 exclusions in the 1040 dictionary of deductions--most which represent concessions to one interest group or another. While some tax breaks do apply to large segments of the population, most go disproportionately to those who are better off. According to one estimate, of $156.6 billion in revenue lost through 33 loopholes in the 1982 tax law, $52.3 billion helped taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes of $50,000 or more. In other words, 33.4 percent of the benefits went to the top 4.4 percent of taxpayers.

(more)

*Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000.

*Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government.

*Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less).

*Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Etzioni stresses that reforms can only be adopted as a package; an analysis of those suggested previously and currently under consideration by Congress shows that none will work and instead, will push money-in-politics into other channels.

"The sum of the parts of our political system has become much greater than the whole," he writes. "And the invasion of the public realm by interest groups must be curbed."

##

*Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000.

*Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government.

*Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less).

*Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Etzioni stresses that reforms can only be adopted as a package; an analysis of those suggested previously and currently under consideration by Congress shows that none will work and instead, will push money-in-politics into other channels.

"The sum of the parts of our political system has become much greater than the whole," he writes. "And the invasion of the public realm by interest groups must be curbed."

##

MAILING DATE: March 16, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR RELEASE MONDAY, MARCH 26

DETAILS OF NEW STUDY ON CORRUPTION IN CONGRESS
TO BE RELEASED BY AMITAI ETZIONI ON MARCH 26

Political money in Washington is being used to buy legislation--both wholesale and retail--according to a study by Amitai Etzioni, former White House Senior Advisor and now a University Professor at The George Washington University. The study, titled "Capital Corruption," will be released Monday, March 26.

Wholesale refers to the use of campaign funds that special interests target to defeat those who do not serve them and use to elect more compliant legislators. Unlike previous reports that most of this money goes to Democrats, the Etzioni study reveals new statistics which show that the main beneficiaries are actually conservative and Republican candidates, while the main losers are liberals and Democrats. Labor political action committees (PACs) however, tilt the scale the other way. The study also shows that special interest PACs outspend political parties roughly four to one, and while money does not guarantee the election of anyone, statistics to be released show that it gives beneficiaries a heavy edge.

(more)

Retail refers to getting an elected member of Congress to support specific items of legislation favorable to a special interest. Etzioni's detailed analysis of how it's done shows how a PAC can tie its contributions to special favors--despite bribery laws and without technically violating them--thus, opening the doors to "legalized bribery."

In analyzing the new ways of political corruption in Washington, Etzioni draws on some previously reported incidents and several new ones he discovered:

- *A member of Congress who actively solicited "business" from illegal immigrants, but whose case was dismissed because he hid behind a little known clause in the Constitution. (The FBI and Department of Justice have since, Etzioni reports, been discouraged from going after other members of Congress.)

- *A peace group and a corporation which "bundle" contributions to get around limitations on contributions.

- *A vote by Congress to shorten the statute of limitations on criminal violations of the Campaign Finance Act for its members to three years. Also, to allow its members to pocket surplus campaign funds, an act forbidden to challengers.

Legitimized corruption strikes at the core of government and is undermining the system's ability to function fairly and effectively, "Capital Corruption" concludes. A prime example is the U.S Tax Code-- which lists more than 1,800 exclusions in the 1040 dictionary of deductions-- most which represent concessions to one interest group or another. While some tax breaks do apply to large segments of the population, most go disproportionately to those who are better off. According to one estimate, of $156.6 billion in revenue lost through 33 loopholes in the 1982 tax law, $52.3 billion helped taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes of $50,000 or more. In other words, 33.4 percent of the benefits went to the top 4.4 percent of taxpayers.

(more)

National security is also mangled by interest groups, Etzioni shows. "Just as the tax code has special interests written into it, to the point where an overall tax concept is no longer visible, so our defense posture reflects the outcome of contractors' lobbying, service rivalry, and pork barrelling--rather than a reasoned analysis of a coherent posture," he writes. "Interest groups have penetrated national security decision making to the point where independent or professional decision making geared to national goals cannot prevail." Instead of concentrating on policy debates--such as the desirable size of overall defense spending, military lobbies concentrate on marketing their own products. Etzioni points to six outcomes of this:

- *There is a strong bias toward procuring weapons, which contributes to a tendency to neglect development of a security strategy.
- *The purchase of inferior weapons and production of obsolete weapons when superior ones are available.
- *A bias in favor of big ticket items over simpler, less costly ones.
- *A tendency to buy new items rather than maintain the ones the military already has.
- *Inclinations to favor hardware over personnel, nuclear over conventional.
- *An inflation of the total defense budget which undercuts the economy, social order, and its own effectiveness.

Etzioni stresses that reforms are needed to reverse the plutocratic tendencies, curb interest groups, and overcome PACs. While there are no cure-alls, he believes progress can be made to curb political corruption if several measures are introduced as a mutually reinforcing package and include:

- *The public financing of Congressional elections, as is now available to presidential candidates.

(more)

*Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000.

*Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government.

*Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less).

*Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Etzioni stresses that reforms can only be adopted as a package; an analysis of those suggested previously and currently under consideration by Congress shows that none will work and instead, will push money-in-politics into other channels.

"The sum of the parts of our political system has become much greater than the whole," he writes. "And the invasion of the public realm by interest groups must be curbed."

##

AMITAI ETZIONI TO HOLD PRESS BRIEFING ON HIS NEW STUDY, "CAPITAL CORRUPTION"

Amitai Etzioni, former White House Senior Advisor and now a University Professor at The George Washington University, will hold a press briefing to release findings from his study, "Capital Corruption," at 10:30 a.m. Monday, March 26 at The George Washington University Alumni House Lounge, (714 21st Street, NW).

You are cordially invited to attend the briefing. If you are unable to attend, you may wish to send someone in your place.

We request that all stories concerning the study and its findings be held until Monday, March 26. However, if you would like to obtain more information about the study or schedule a prior interview for background purposes, contact David E. Taylor, GW Office of News and Public Affairs, 676-6460.

##

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Telecom

WRITER: Reder

DATE RELEASED: 3/24/84

NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)

LOCAL WEEKLY (22)

District (11)

Suburban Maryland (8)

Suburban Virginia (3)

LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)

LOCAL TELEVISION (8)

PSA (47)

NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)

TALK SHOWS (17)

TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)

INDIVIDUALS (3)

INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)

BUSINESS (12)

COLLEGE PAPERS (16)

CONSUMER (5)

DANCE (14)

DRAMA (8)

EDUCATION (17)

EDUCATION VIP (14)

ENERGY (12)

ENGINEERING (5)

FILM (4)

FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)

HISTORICAL (3)

LAW (15)

LIBRARIES (7)

MUSIC (4)

POLICY STUDIES (5)

PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)

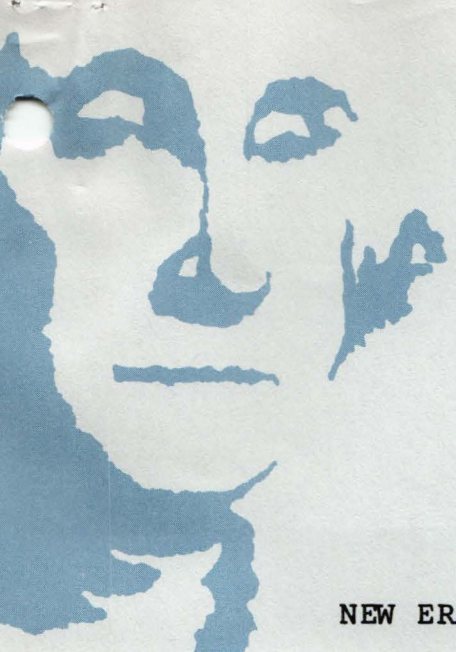

SCIENCE (12)

TECHNOLOGY (9)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)

WOMEN (18)

OTHER: ()

News from

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 23, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEW ERA IN SPACE TELECOMMUNICATIONS - A FORUM AT G W

Transatlantic satellite transmission is the topic of the sixth in a series of informal lectures sponsored by the Center for Telecommunications at The George Washington University Thursday, April 5, at 4:00 p.m., in the Marvin Center, 800 21 Street, N.W. Christopher J. Vizas II, Executive Vice President, Orion Satellite Corporation, and Steve Levy, attorney at Hogan and Hartson, and counsel to International Relay, Inc. are the guest speakers. Admission is free.

International Telecommunication Satellite Organization (Intelsat) is the sole common carrier provider of international satellite transmission across the Atlantic. Communications Satellite Corporation is the sole U.S. signatory to the Intelsat agreement. Orion applied to the FCC in March 1983 to develop the first private transatlantic satellite system, which would provide broadband satellite capacity to multi-national businesses and organizations. International Relay, Inc. has a proposal before the FCC to develop earth stations that would afford direct access to the Intelsat space segment.

For further information call 676-7062.

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: 1 M 1300X WRITER: Reder

DATE RELEASED: 3/24/84 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)
LOCAL WEEKLY (22)
 District (11)
 Suburban Maryland (8)
 Suburban Virginia (3)
LOCAL WIRE (2)
NATIONAL DAILY (35)
NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)
NATIONAL WIRE (2)
NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)
LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)
LOCAL TELEVISION (8)
PSA (47)
NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)
TALK SHOWS (17)
TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)
INDIVIDUALS (3)
INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)
BUSINESS (12)
COLLEGE PAPERS (16)
CONSUMER (5)
DANCE (14)
DRAMA (8)
EDUCATION (17)
EDUCATION VIP (14)
ENERGY (12)
ENGINEERING (5)
FILM (4)
FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)
HISTORICAL (3)
LAW (15)
LIBRARIES (7)
MUSIC (4)
POLICY STUDIES (5)
PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)
SCIENCE (12)
TECHNOLOGY (9)
TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)
WOMEN (18)
OTHER: ()

Plus library publication list

MESSENGER:

Miles Benson
Newhouse News Service
1750 Pennsylvania Ave, NW
Washington, D.C. 20006

Paul Houston
The Los Angeles Times
1875 Eye St., NW
Suite 1100
Washington, D.C. 20006

Thomas Brazaitis
Cleveland Plain Dealer
930 National Press Building
Washington, D.C. 20045

Pat Ordozensky
Gannett News Service
1000 Wilson Blvd.
Arlington, VA 22209

MAILING DATE: March 23, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW GELMAN LIBRARY ACQUIRES MILLIONTH VOLUME

The Gelman Library of the George Washington University will celebrate the acquisition of its millionth volume on Wednesday, March 28, in the Marvin Center Theatre, at 4:00 p.m., when Albert H. Small will present President Lloyd H. Elliott with a rare manuscript. In addition, the Gelman Library will be observing its tenth anniversary Monday, March 26 through Thursday, April 1.

The manuscript is a property ledger prepared by the descendants of Samuel Blodget, an early landowner in what was to become the District of Columbia. In its entirety, the text is an attempt to establish the correct order of transfer for the property Samuel Blodget owned. The writers begin with copies of land patents for "Jamaica," one of Blodget's principal properties, which he purchased on January 12, 1792, and which occupied an area in what is now northwest Washington. The manuscript will be added to the library's most comprehensive collection, The Washingtoniana Collection, which supports the Center for Washington Area Studies.

(more)

Other events scheduled during the anniversary week include: demonstrations of computer application in the cataloging, circulation, and reference departments; and the Student Book Collectors Contest awards ceremony.

News from

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 23, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW GELMAN LIBRARY ACQUIRES MILLIONTH VOLUME

The Gelman Library of the George Washington University will celebrate the acquisition of its millionth volume on Wednesday, March 28, in the Marvin Center Theatre, at 4:00 p.m., when Albert H. Small will present President Lloyd H. Elliott with a rare manuscript. In addition, the Gelman Library will be observing its tenth anniversary Monday, March 26 through Thursday, April 1.

The manuscript is a property ledger prepared by the descendants of Samuel Blodget, an early landowner in what was to become the District of Columbia. In its entirety, the text is an attempt to establish the correct order of transfer for the property Samuel Blodget owned. The writers begin with copies of land patents for "Jamaica," one of Blodget's principal properties, which he purchased on January 12, 1792, and which occupied an area in what is now northwest Washington. The manuscript will be added to the library's most comprehensive collection, The Washingtoniana Collection, which supports the Center for Washington Area Studies.

(more)

Other events scheduled during the anniversary week include: demonstrations of computer application in the cataloging, circulation, and reference departments; and the Student Book Collectors Contest awards ceremony.

News from

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 23, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW GELMAN LIBRARY ACQUIRES MILLIONTH VOLUME

The Gelman Library of the George Washington University will celebrate the acquisition of its millionth volume on Wednesday, March 28, in the Marvin Center Theatre, at 4:00 p.m., when Albert H. Small will present President Lloyd H. Elliott with a rare manuscript. In addition, the Gelman Library will be observing its tenth anniversary Monday, March 26 through Thursday, April 1.

The manuscript is a property ledger prepared by the descendants of Samuel Blodget, an early landowner in what was to become the District of Columbia. In its entirety, the text is an attempt to establish the correct order of transfer for the property Samuel Blodget owned. The writers begin with copies of land patents for "Jamaica," one of Blodget's principal properties, which he purchased on January 12, 1792, and which occupied an area in what is now northwest Washington. The manuscript will be added to the library's most comprehensive collection, The Washingtoniana Collection, which supports the Center for Washington Area Studies.

(more)

Other events scheduled during the anniversary week include: demonstrations of computer application in the cataloging, circulation, and reference departments; and the Student Book Collectors Contest awards ceremony.

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 26, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6464 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WASHINGTON AS AN OPEN CITY: CORRUPTION LEGALIZED

"On March 24 and 25, 1984, Sen. Gary Hart reminded primary voters, in full-page ads, that as a presidential candidate he does not accept PAC contributions, indicating that he considers such contributions as unsavory. But when Hart was campaigning as a senator he accepted PAC contributions quite freely," said George Washington University Professor Amitai Etzioni at a news conference today (March 26). For instance, he is reported to have accepted campaign contributions from an asbestos company and from oil and gas companies and then voted in their favor in the U.S. Senate, Etzioni said.

In a study Etzioni just released titled "Capital Corruption," many such incidents are listed. For example: Sen. Paul Laxalt (R-NV) received campaign contributions from major figures in the underworld of organized crime while he was serving as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee which drafts criminal laws (see study p. xii). Bristol-Myers threatened to withhold a campaign contribution from Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-MD) if he voted against a bill the company favored (p. 61).

Probably the incident which carries such acts several steps further than most is the "one-stop" reportedly run by Rep. Tony Coelho (D-CA). He is said to arrange for representatives of special interests to get help in drafting bills they desire and in finding sponsors and co-sponsors and the necessary support among Democratic members of Congress, as long as the special-interest PACs underwrite the bills with campaign contributions (details pp. 62-63).

The main finding of Etzioni's study of corruption in the capital, however, is different: All these acts--and many others--are now legal." The problem of corruption in Congress is no longer akin to that of traffic in illegal heroin but quite like legal intoxication with alcohol," Etzioni said. As the study shows, because of changes in the law and court interpretations of it, the bribery statute now applies only when there is an explicit and direct deal between a lobbyist and a member of Congress. "However, it is now legal to instruct a member of Congress in detail what a lobby demands, promise campaign contributions, pay off after the sought vote was cast, and all in broad daylight--like buying a fifth of bourbon after Prohibition was lifted," he said. "The only thing one cannot do is uncork the deal in the halls of Congress: one cannot say out loud the words, 'if you vote so-and-so then we'll pay.' But as long as the deal is left implicit--there is no legal problem (details, p. 56 on)."

When members of Congress are caught red-handed, as Rep. Henry Helstoski was (pp. xii, 65), then they hide behind a little known clause of the Constitution--which does not allow introducing in court as evidence votes cast by members of Congress nor any related activities (pp. 64-65), Etzioni said. Interviews with the FBI and the Department of Justice suggest that as a result these agencies are no longer quite keen to pursue such cases (p. 65). What is at fault is the present system which allows special interests to make campaign contributions to this or that individual--who accepts them and then "delivers" the goods in return, he said. A member of Congress who does not play along will have a hard time getting the funds needed to run for office and is likely to be defeated by those who do accept PAC money. The average expenditures of winners in the 1982 election was $203,831; of losers--$86,397 (more: p. 12, p. 14 on).

"Capital Corruption" documents members of Congress voting to shorten the statute of limitations which applies to them to three years--five years is customary for other Americans (p. 65). Members of Congress enacted a law by which no person running for office may pocket the hefty surpluses sometimes left after campaigning is over--other than if he or she was a member of Congress when the vote was cast on January 8, 1980 (see p. 243). Congress ethics committees are used as much or more to whitewash acts by members of Congress than to uphold the code (p. 243 on), he said.

"The net result of all this is to make Washington an open city in which corruption is no longer a sleazy business, conducted by shady characters and unsavory businesses fearing the sheriff, but it is out in the open, very widely practiced with impunity by representatives of the cross-cut of corporate America, labor unions, doctors, lawyers, businessmen and many others," Etzioni said.

"Capital Corruption" suggests that no single reform will work. Several mutually reinforcing ones are needed, including:

- * The public financing of congressional elections, as is now available to presidential candidates;
- * Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000;
- * Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government;
- * Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less);
- * Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Amitai Etzioni's study "Capital Corruption" was published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich on March 26, 1984. Dr. Etzioni is University Professor at The George Washington University and Director of the Center for Policy Research. He was a Senior Advisor in the White House, 1979-1980, and served 20 years in the Department of Sociology at Columbia University.

Messenger - 3/26

Tom Raum
Associated Press
2021 K Street, NW
#606
Washington, D.C. 20006

David Shribman
New York Times
1000 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

~~Steve Gerstel~~ Clay Richards
United Press International
1400 Eye Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20005

ABC Radio News
1717 DeSales St., NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Reuters
Carol Giacomo
1333 H Street, NW
#410
Washington, D.C. 20005

Mutual Broadcasting System
1755 S. Jefferson Davis Highway
Arlington, VA 22202

NBC Radio News
1331 H Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20005

Helen Dewar
The Washington Post
1150 15th St., NW
Washington, D.C. 20071

T.R. Reid
The Washington Post
1150 15th St., NW
Washington, D.C. 20071

Martin Tolchin
The New York Times
1000 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Brooks Jackson
The Wall Street Journal
1025 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20036

Doug Harbrecht
Scripps Howard Newspapers
1110 Vermont Ave., NW
#610
Washington, D.C. 20005

OTHERS:

Interview/Talk/ETC.

Panorama

WPTG-TV

45 5151 Wisconsin Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Robertta Dougherty

CBS Morning News

46 524 West 57th Street
New York, New York 10019

Ellen Sanger

ABC Good Morning America

47 Seven West 66th Street
New York, New York 10023

Steve Friedman

NBC Today Show

48 30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York, New York 10112

Mary Hilliard

CNN Take Two

49 One World Trade Center
Suite 2007
New York, New York 10048

Cheryl Martin

Channel 4 News Cover Story

50 WRC-TV

4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Margie Lehrman

51 Today Show/NBC News

4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Gail Evans

Cable News Network

52 1050 Techwood Dr., NW
Atlanta, GA 30318

OTHERS:

38 Walterene Swanston (assignment)
WDVM-TV
40th & Brandywine St., NW
Washington, DC 20016

39 WJLA-TV
4461 Connecticut Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20008

Doug Nielson (assignment)

40 WRC-TV
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20016

Mike Kiernan (assignment)

41 WTTG-TV
5151 Wisconsin Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20016

(Jan Richards)

2 WMAL Radio
4400 Jenifer St., NW
Washington, DC 20015

Pat Anastasi (assignment)

43 WTOP Radio
4646 40th St., NW
Washington, DC 20016

Ann Colt (assignment)

44 WRC Radio
4001 Nebraska Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20016

John Calhoun (assignment)

MAILING DATE: March 26, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6464 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WASHINGTON AS AN OPEN CITY: CORRUPTION LEGALIZED

"On March 24 and 25, 1984, Sen. Gary Hart reminded primary voters, in full-page ads, that as a presidential candidate he does not accept PAC contributions, indicating that he considers such contributions as unsavory. But when Hart was campaigning as a senator he accepted PAC contributions quite freely," said George Washington University Professor Amitai Etzioni at a news conference today (March 26). For instance, he is reported to have accepted campaign contributions from an asbestos company and from oil and gas companies and then voted in their favor in the U.S. Senate, Etzioni said.

In a study Etzioni just released titled "Capital Corruption," many such incidents are listed. For example: Sen. Paul Laxalt (R-NV) received campaign contributions from major figures in the underworld of organized crime while he was serving as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee which drafts criminal laws (see study p. xii). Bristol-Myers threatened to withhold a campaign contribution from Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-MD) if he voted against a bill the company favored (p. 61).

Probably the incident which carries such acts several steps further than most is the "one-stop" reportedly run by Rep. Tony Coelho (D-CA). He is said to arrange for representatives of special interests to get help in drafting bills they desire and in finding sponsors and co-sponsors and the necessary support among Democratic members of Congress, as long as the special-interest PACs underwrite the bills with campaign contributions (details pp. 62-63).

The main finding of Etzioni's study of corruption in the capital, however, is different: All these acts--and many others--are now legal." The problem of corruption in Congress is no longer akin to that of traffic in illegal heroin but quite like legal intoxication with alcohol," Etzioni said. As the study shows, because of changes in the law and court interpretations of it, the bribery statute now applies only when there is an explicit and direct deal between a lobbyist and a member of Congress. "However, it is now legal to instruct a member of Congress in detail what a lobby demands, promise campaign contributions, pay off after the sought vote was cast, and all in broad daylight--like buying a fifth of bourbon after Prohibition was lifted," he said. "The only thing one cannot do is uncork the deal in the halls of Congress: one cannot say out loud the words, 'if you vote so-and-so then we'll pay.'" But as long as the deal is left implicit--there is no legal problem (details, p. 56 on)."

When members of Congress are caught red-handed, as Rep. Henry Helstoski was (pp. xii, 65), then they hide behind a little known clause of the Constitution--which does not allow introducing in court as evidence votes cast by members of Congress nor any related activities (pp. 64-65), Etzioni said. Interviews with the FBI and the Department of Justice suggest that as a result these agencies are no longer quite keen to pursue such cases (p. 65). What is at fault is the present system which allows special interests to make campaign contributions to this or that individual--who accepts them and then "delivers" the goods in return, he said. A member of Congress who does not play along will have a hard time getting the funds needed to run for office and is likely to be defeated by those who do accept PAC money. The average expenditures of winners in the 1982 election was $203,831; of losers--$86,397 (more: p. 12, p. 14 on).

"Capital Corruption" documents members of Congress voting to shorten the statute of limitations which applies to them to three years--five years is customary for other Americans (p. 65). Members of Congress enacted a law by which no person running for office may pocket the hefty surpluses sometimes left after campaigning is over--other than if he or she was a member of Congress when the vote was cast on January 8, 1980 (see p. 243). Congress ethics committees are used as much or more to whitewash acts by members of Congress than to uphold the code (p. 243 on), he said.

"The net result of all this is to make Washington an open city in which corruption is no longer a sleazy business, conducted by shady characters and unsavory businesses fearing the sheriff, but it is out in the open, very widely practiced with impunity by representatives of the cross-cut of corporate America, labor unions, doctors, lawyers, businessmen and many others," Etzioni said.

"Capital Corruption" suggests that no single reform will work. Several mutually reinforcing ones are needed, including:

- * The public financing of congressional elections, as is now available to presidential candidates;
- * Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000;
- * Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government;
- * Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less);
- * Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Amitai Etzioni's study "Capital Corruption" was published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich on March 26, 1984. Dr. Etzioni is University Professor at The George Washington University and Director of the Center for Policy Research. He was a Senior Advisor in the White House, 1979-1980, and served 20 years in the Department of Sociology at Columbia University.

proof

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR DET

BJ _____

JL _____

DT _____

NR _____

SP _____

HW _____

EC _____

TC _____

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 26, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6464 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WASHINGTON AS AN OPEN CITY: CORRUPTION LEGALIZED

"On March 24 and 25, 1984, Sen. Gary Hart reminded primary voters, in full-page ads, that as a presidential candidate he does not accept PAC contributions, indicating that he considers such contributions as unsavory. But when Hart was campaigning as a senator he accepted PAC contributions quite freely," said George Washington University Professor Amitai Etzioni at a news conference today (March 26). For instance, he is reported to have accepted campaign contributions from an asbestos company and from oil and gas companies and then voted in their favor in the U.S. Senate, Etzioni said.

In a study Etzioni just released titled "Capital Corruption," many such incidents are listed. For example: Sen. Paul Laxalt (R-NV) received campaign contributions from major figures in the underworld of organized crime while he was serving as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee which drafts criminal laws (see study p. xii). Bristol-Myers threatened to withhold a campaign contribution from Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-MD) if he voted against a bill the company favored (p. 61).

Probably the incident which carries such acts several steps further than most is the "one-stop" reportedly run by Rep. Tony Coelho (D-CA). He is said to arrange for representatives of special interests to get help in drafting bills they desire and in finding sponsors and co-sponsors and the necessary support among Democratic members of Congress, as long as the special-interest PACs underwrite the bills with campaign contributions (details pp. 62-63).

The main finding of Etzioni's study of corruption in the capital, however, is different: All these acts--and many others--are now legal." The problem of corruption in Congress is no longer akin to that of traffic in illegal heroin but quite like legal intoxication with alcohol," Etzioni said. As the study shows, because of changes in the law and court interpretations of it, the bribery statute now applies only when there is an explicit and direct deal between a lobbyist and a member of Congress. "However, it is now legal to instruct a member of Congress in detail what a lobby demands, promise campaign contributions, pay off after the sought vote was cast, and all in broad daylight--like buying a fifth of bourbon after Prohibition was lifted," he said. "The only thing one cannot do is uncork the deal in the halls of Congress: one cannot say out loud the words, 'if you vote so-and-so then we'll pay.' But as long as the deal is left implicit--there is no legal problem (details, p. 56 on)."

When members of Congress are caught red-handed, as Rep. Henry Helstoski was (pp. xii, 65), then they hide behind a little known clause of the Constitution--which does not allow introducing in court as evidence votes cast by members of Congress nor any related activities (pp. 64-65), Etzioni said. Interviews with the FBI and the Department of Justice suggest that as a result these agencies are no longer quite keen to pursue such cases (p. 65). What is at fault is the present system which allows special interests to make campaign contributions to this or that individual--who accepts them and then "delivers" the goods in return, he said. A member of Congress who does not play along will have a hard time getting the funds needed to run for office and is likely to be defeated by those who do accept PAC money. The average expenditures of winners in the 1982 election was $203,831; of losers--$86,397 (more: p. 12, p. 14 on).

"Capital Corruption" documents members of Congress voting to shorten the statute of limitations which applies to them to three years--five years is customary for other Americans (p. 65). Members of Congress enacted a law by which no person running for office may pocket the hefty surpluses sometimes left after campaigning is over--other than if he or she was a member of Congress when the vote was cast on January 8, 1980 (see p. 243). Congress ethics committees are used as much or more to whitewash acts by members of Congress than to uphold the code (p. 243 on), he said.

"The net result of all this is to make Washington an open city in which corruption is no longer a sleazy business, conducted by shady characters and unsavory businesses fearing the sheriff, but it is out in the open, very widely practiced with impunity by representatives of the cross-cut of corporate America, labor unions, doctors, lawyers, businessmen and many others," Etzioni said.

"Capital Corruption" suggests that no single reform will work. Several mutually reinforcing ones are needed, including:

- * The public financing of congressional elections, as is now available to presidential candidates;
- * Reducing the cost and time spent running for office. Shorten the campaign period to five months and provide some free access to media for all candidates. Limit the total spending in a campaign to $200,000 and PAC contributions to $75,000;
- * Introducing new curbs on lobbying, to be defined as anyone who spends 20 percent of their time trying to influence the government;
- * Increasing Congress members' salaries by 30 percent in exchange for a commitment to freeze all outside income from lectures, fees, etc., and limit gifts to the same level as they are now in the executive branch ($25 or less);
- * Providing enforcement agencies, from the Federal Election Commission to the FBI, with the resources their work requires.

Amitai Etzioni's study "Capital Corruption" was published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich on March 26, 1984. Dr. Etzioni is University Professor at The George Washington University and Director of the Center for Policy Research. He was a Senior Advisor in the White House, 1979-1980, and served 20 years in the Department of Sociology at Columbia University.

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 27, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW TROUBADOURS TOUR PORTUGAL

The Troubadours, a performance ensemble of the Department of Music at The George Washington University, have been invited by the honorable H. Allen Holmes, U.S. Ambassador to Portugal, to tour the country for 12 days in May. The ensemble leaves May 16 and will perform at universities, high schools and embassy functions throughout Portugal.

April 18, prior to their european engagement, The Troubadours are performing in the Marvin Center Theatre, 800 21 Street N.W., at 8:00 p.m. The program will draw from the troupe's 20th Century Pop repertoire, and will also include a selection of serious art music.

Proceeds from the performance will be used to defray the cost of their airfare.

For further information call 676-6245.

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Music Act Troubadours WRITER: Reder

DATE RELEASED: 3/28/84 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)

LOCAL WEEKLY (22)

District (11)

Suburban Maryland (8)

Suburban Virginia (3)

LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)

LOCAL TELEVISION (8)

PSA (47)

NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)

TALK SHOWS (17)

TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)

INDIVIDUALS (3)

INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)

BUSINESS (12)

COLLEGE PAPERS (16)

CONSUMER (5)

DANCE (14)

DRAMA (8)

EDUCATION (17)

EDUCATION VIP (14)

ENERGY (12)

ENGINEERING (5)

FILM (4)

FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)

HISTORICAL (3)

LAW (15)

LIBRARIES (7)

MUSIC (4)

POLICY STUDIES (5)

PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)

SCIENCE (12)

TECHNOLOGY (9)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)

WOMEN (18)

OTHER: ()

Gaithersburg Gazette
807 S. Frederick Ave.
Gaithersburg, Md. 20878

~~Columbia Union College~~
~~WGTS FM Radio~~
~~Flower & Carroll Ave.~~
~~Takoma Park, Md. 20012~~

The Hill Rag, Inc.
410 S. Capitol Street
Washington, D.C. 20003

Mr. Tom Gauger
WMAL Radio
4400 Jenifer Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Dr. Eugene Helt
Dept. of Music
Univ. of Maryland
College Park, Md. 20742

The Jewish Week
529 14th Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20004

WMZQ Radio
1680 Wisconsin Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016
Att: Music Director

Prof. Edward Kiehl
Dept. of Music
Univ. of Maryland
College Park, Md. 20742

Carlton King
c/o Patuxent Publishing Corp.
413 Montgomery Street
Laurel, Maryland 20707

WTOP Radio
4646 40th Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20016
Att: Earlene J. Moye

Prof. Michael Bunn
Dept. of Music
Univ. of Maryland
College Park, Md. 20742

Laurel Sentinel
7515 Annapolis Road
Laurel, Maryland 20707

Dr. George Schuetze
Dept. of Music
The American University
Washington, D.C. 20016

Dr. Howard Serwer
Dept. of Music
Univ. of Maryland
College Park, Md. 20742

Robert Aubrey Davis
WETA • Box 2626
Washington, D.C. 20031

Dr. Elaine Walter, Dean
School of Music
The Catholic Univ. of Amer.
Washington, D.C. 20064

College of Music
Shenandoah College and Conservatory
Winchester, Va. 22601

Bill Cerri
WETA Box 2626
Washington, D.C. 20031

Dr. G. T. Jones, Music Dept.
The Catholic Univ. of Amer.
Washington, D.C. 20064

Dept. of Music
Trinity College
Michigan Ave. & Franklin, NE
Washington, D.C. 20017

WETA Radio
Box 2626
Washington, D.C. 20013
Att: Mr. M. Goldsmith

Dr. Robert Ricks
Music Department
The Catholic Univ. of Amer.
Washington, D.C. 20064

Bethesda-Chevy Chase H.S.
4301 East-West Highway
Bethesda, Maryland 20815
Att: Music Department

WGMS AM/FM
11300 Rockville Pike
Rockville, Maryland 20852
Att: Renee Channey

Dept. of Music
Columbia Union College
Takoma Park, Md. 20012

Ellington School of the Arts
35th and R Sts., NW
Washington, D.C. 20020
Att: Music Dept.

WGMS AM/FM
11300 Rockville Pike
Rockville, Md. 20852
Att: Dennis Owens

Dept. of Music
Univ. of the District of Col.
Washington, D.C. 20009

Fairfax High School
3500 Old Lee Highway
Fairfax, Va. 22030
Att: Music Department

WGMS AM/FM
11300 Rockville Pike
Rockville, Md. 20852
Att: Laura Kramer

Dept. of Music
George Mason University
4400 University Drive
Fairfax, Va. 22030

Falls Church High School
7521 Jaguar Tr.
Falls Church, Va. 22042
Att: Music Department

McLean Providence Journal 6819 Elm McLean, Virginia 22101	The Unicorn Times 930 F Street, N.W. Suite 515 Washington, D.C. 20007	Jane T. Lingo News and Public Affairs Gelman Library #705 CAMPUS MAIL
Montgomery County Sentinel 9030 Comprint Ct. Gaithersburg, Md. 20760	Wheaton News 2501 Ennals Avenue Wheaton, Md. 20904	The Northwest Current 5428 MacArthur Blvd., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20016
The Montgomery Journal 6935 Wisconsin Ave. Chevy Chase, Md. 20015	Washingtonian Magazine 1818 L Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036	Publick Occurrences Weekly The Washington Post 1150 15th Street, NW Washington, D.C. 20071
Northern Virginia Sun 1227 No. Ivy Street Arlington, Va. 22210	American University WAMU-FM 4400 Massachusetts Ave., NW Washington, D.C. 20016	Uptown Citizen 4101 River Road, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20016
The Potomac Almanac 10201 River Road Potomac, Md. 20854	W.A.S.H. Radio 5151 Wisconsin Ave., NW Washington, D.C. 20016 Att: Music Editor	Calendar Editor for Arts The Washington Post 1150 15th Street, NW Washington, D.C. 20071
Prince Georges Post 4623 Baltimore Ave. Hyattsville, Md. 20781	Alexandria Gazette 717 No. St. Asaph Street Alexandria, Va. 22314	James Schwartz ? Washington Post 1150 15th Street, NW Washington, D.C. 20071
The Progressive 1830 24th Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20008	Alexandria Journal 6885 Commercial Drive Springfield, Va. 22151	Mr. Joseph McClellan ? The Washington Post 1150 15th Street, NW Washington, D.C. 20071
The Port Packet 610 Madison Street Alexandria, Va. 22314	Arlington News c/o Icarus Publications, Inc. P. O. Box 1590 Arlington, Va. 22210	Mr. F. Warren O'Reilly The Washington Times 3600 New York Ave. Washington, D.C. 20002
Springfield Independent 717 N St. Asaph Street Alexandria, Va. 22314	Friday Report CAMPUS Public Relations Ross Hall #712 Att: Molly Moxam	D. J. Yount CAMPUS Vice President and Treasurer's Office Rice Hall 7th Floor
The Suburban Record 7676 Fenton Street Silver Spring, Md. 20912	The Georgetown 1257 Wisconsin Ave., NW Washington, D.C. 20007	Capital Spotlight Newspaper National Press Building 529 14th Street, NW Washington, D.C. 20004
"THIS WEEK IN THE NATION's CAPITAL" 5428 MacArthur Blvd., NW	Theresa L. Lenk GWB Broadcasting 621 Library	D.C. Gazette 1739 Connecticut Ave., NW Washington, D.C. 20009

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 27, 1984

CONTACT: Nancy Reder
(202) 676-6463 (office)
(703) 836-5312 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

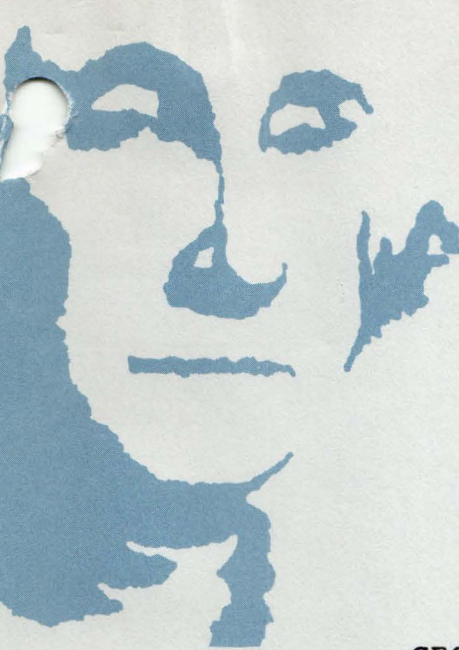

GW TROUBADOURS TOUR PORTUGAL

The Troubadours, a performance ensemble of the Department of Music at The George Washington University, have been invited by the honorable H. Allen Holmes, U.S. Ambassador to Portugal, to tour the country for 12 days in May. The ensemble leaves May 16 and will perform at universities, high schools and embassy functions throughout Portugal.

April 18, prior to their european engagement, The Troubadours are performing in the Marvin Center Theatre, 800 21 Street N.W., at 8:00 p.m. The program will draw from the troupe's 20th Century Pop repertoire, and will also include a selection of serious art music.

Proceeds from the performance will be used to defray the cost of their airfare.

For further information call 676-6245.

News from

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 28, 1984

CONTACT: Ellen Connorton
(202) 676-6462 (office)
(202) 232-5078 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY FUN DAY

George Washington University's second annual Fun Day will be on Saturday, April 14, from noon to 5 pm, adjacent to Lisner Auditorium at 21st and H Streets, NW.

Fun Day's activities will include acrobats, actors, magicians, dancers, 13 bands, carnival activities, and personal appearances by local celebrities.

All GW faculty, staff, students, alumni and neighbors are invited to attend with their families and friends. All activities are free. Call 676-3999 for more information.

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: FUN DAY WRITER: CANNONTON

DATE RELEASED: 3.28.84 NO. COPIES REQUIRED: 100 (39 internal)

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)
LOCAL WEEKLY (22)
District (11)
Suburban Maryland (8)
Suburban Virginia (3)

LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)
LOCAL TELEVISION (8)
PSA (47)
NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)
TALK SHOWS (17)
TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)
INDIVIDUALS (3)
INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)
BUSINESS (12)
COLLEGE PAPERS (16)
CONSUMER (5)
DANCE (14)
DRAMA (8)
EDUCATION (17)
EDUCATION VIP (14)
ENERGY (12)
ENGINEERING (5)
FILM (4)
FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)
HISTORICAL (3)
LAW (15)
LIBRARIES (7)
MUSIC (4)
POLICY STUDIES (5)
PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)
SCIENCE (12)
TECHNOLOGY (9)
TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)
WOMEN (18)
OTHER: ()

MAILING DATE: March 28, 1984

CONTACT: Ellen Connorton
(202) 676-6462 (office)
(202) 232-5078 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY FUN DAY

George Washington University's second annual Fun Day will be on Saturday, April 14, from noon to 5 pm, adjacent to Lisner Auditorium at 21st and H Streets, NW.

Fun Day's activities will include acrobats, actors, magicians, dancers, 13 bands, carnival activities, and personal appearances by local celebrities.

All GW faculty, staff, students, alumni and neighbors are invited to attend with their families and friends. All activities are free. Call 676-3999 for more information.

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 28, 1984

CONTACT: Ellen Connorton
(202) 676-6462 (office)
(202) 232-5078 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY FUN DAY

George Washington University's second annual Fun Day will be on Saturday, April 14, from noon to 5 pm, adjacent to Lisner Auditorium at 21st and H Streets, NW.

Fun Day's activities will include acrobats, actors, magicians, dancers, 13 bands, carnival activities, and personal appearances by local celebrities.

All GW faculty, staff, students, alumni and neighbors are invited to attend with their families and friends. All activities are free. Call 676-3999 for more information.

News from

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 30, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW LAW SCHOOL CLASS TO HOLD 50th REUNION

The George Washington University Law School will hold a 50th Anniversary Reunion for the GW Law School Class of 1934 on Friday, April 13. All classes prior to 1934 are also cordially invited to the reunion, which will be held in the new addition to the Jacob Burns Law Library.

The program begins at 10 a.m. with a reunion in the 5th floor faculty lounge in the new addition of the Jacob Burns Law Library (716 20th St., NW). A campus bus tour will follow at 11:30 a.m., and a reception will be held at 12 noon at the Marvin Center's third floor art gallery foyer (800 21st St., NW)

A luncheon begins at 12:45 p.m. in the University Club, (Marvin Center third floor), at which golden membership cards will be issued for the 50th year class and for previous graduates who have not yet received theirs.

(more)

The class co-chairmen of the reunion are the Hon. J. William Fulbright, LLB, 1934, and LLD, 1959 (Honorary), former U.S. Senator from Arkansas, and Eugene C. Carusi, LLB, 1934, former GW trustee.

The honorary chairman is Dr. Jacob Burns, LLB, 1924, and LLD, 1970 (Honorary), who will be celebrating his 60th anniversary.

Spouses and guests are welcome. For more information, call 676-4999.

##

proof

PRESS RELEASE

AUTHOR DET

BJ _____

JL _____

DT _____

NR _____

SP _____

HW _____

EC _____

TC _____

NEWS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: _____ WRITER: _____

DATE RELEASED: _____ NO. COPIES REQUIRED: _____

PRINT MEDIA:

LOCAL DAILY (2)
LOCAL WEEKLY (22)
 District (11)
 Suburban Maryland (8)
 Suburban Virginia (3)

LOCAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL DAILY (35)

NATIONAL WEEKLY (4)

NATIONAL WIRE (2)

NATIONAL SYNDICATES (11)

LOCAL EVENTS / CALENDARS (10)

BROADCAST MEDIA:

LOCAL RADIO (37)

LOCAL TELEVISION (8)

PSA (47)

NATIONAL NETWORKS (8)

TALK SHOWS (17)

TALK SHOWS SPEC (3)

OTHER:

CAMPUS LIST (11)

INDIVIDUALS (3)

INTRA-OFFICE (9)

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS:

ART (19)

BUSINESS (12)

COLLEGE PAPERS (16)

CONSUMER (5)

DANCE (14)

DRAMA (8)

EDUCATION (17)

EDUCATION VIP (14)

ENERGY (12)

ENGINEERING (5)

FILM (4)

FOUNDATION / GRANTS (3)

HISTORICAL (3)

LAW (15)

LIBRARIES (7)

MUSIC (4)

POLICY STUDIES (5)

PUBLIC / INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (6)

SCIENCE (12)

TECHNOLOGY (9)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (17)

WOMEN (18)

OTHER: ()

WASHINGTON BUSINESS CITIZEN
W

Mailing Date: March 30, 1988
Contact: David E. Taylor
676-6460
For IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW LAW SCHOOL CLASS TO HOLD 50th REUNION

The George Washington University Law School will hold a 50th Anniversary Reunion for the GW Law School Class of 1934 on Friday, April 13. All classes prior to 1934 are also cordially invited to the reunion, which will be held in the new addition to the Jacob Burns Law Library.

The program begins at 10 a.m. with a reunion in the 5th floor faculty lounge in the new addition of the Jacob Burns ^{Law} Library (716 20th St., NW). A campus bus tour will follow at 11:30 a.m., and a reception will be held at 12 noon at the Marvin Center's third floor art gallery foyer (800 21st St., NW)

A luncheon begins at 12:45 p.m. in the University Club, (Marvin Center third floor), at which golden membership cards (will be issued) for the 50th year class and for previous graduates who have not yet received theirs.

The class co-chairmen of the reunion are the Hon. J. William Fulbright, LLB, 1934, ^(and) LLD, 1959 (Honorary), former U.S. Senator from Arkansas, and Eugene C. Carusi, LLB, 1934, former GW trustee.

The honorary chairman is Dr. Jacob Burns, LLB, 1924 and LLD, 1970 (Honorary), who will be celebrating his 60th anniversary.

Spouses and guests are welcome. For more information, call 676-4999.

#

News from
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Office of News and Public Affairs / Washington, D.C. 20052 / (202)676-6460

MAILING DATE: March 30, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW LAW SCHOOL CLASS TO HOLD 50th REUNION

The George Washington University Law School will hold a 50th Anniversary Reunion for the GW Law School Class of 1934 on Friday, April 13. All classes prior to 1934 are also cordially invited to the reunion, which will be held in the new addition to the Jacob Burns Law Library.

The program begins at 10 a.m. with a reunion in the 5th floor faculty lounge in the new addition of the Jacob Burns Law Library (716 20th St., NW). A campus bus tour will follow at 11:30 a.m., and a reception will be held at 12 noon at the Marvin Center's third floor art gallery foyer (800 21st St., NW)

A luncheon begins at 12:45 p.m. in the University Club, (Marvin Center third floor), at which golden membership cards will be issued for the 50th year class and for previous graduates who have not yet received theirs.

(more)

The class co-chairmen of the reunion are the Hon. J. William Fulbright, LLB, 1934, and LLD, 1959 (Honorary), former U.S. Senator from Arkansas, and Eugene C. Carusi, LLB, 1934, former GW trustee.

The honorary chairman is Dr. Jacob Burns, LLB, 1924, and LLD, 1970 (Honorary), who will be celebrating his 60th anniversary.

Spouses and guests are welcome. For more information, call 676-4999.

##

MAILING DATE: March 30, 1984

CONTACT: David E. Taylor
(202) 676-6460 (office)
(703) 524-9891 (home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW LAW SCHOOL CLASS TO HOLD 50th REUNION

The George Washington University Law School will hold a 50th Anniversary Reunion for the GW Law School Class of 1934 on Friday, April 13. All classes prior to 1934 are also cordially invited to the reunion, which will be held in the new addition to the Jacob Burns Law Library.

The program begins at 10 a.m. with a reunion in the 5th floor faculty lounge in the new addition of the Jacob Burns Law Library (716 20th St., NW). A campus bus tour will follow at 11:30 a.m., and a reception will be held at 12 noon at the Marvin Center's third floor art gallery foyer (800 21st St., NW)

A luncheon begins at 12:45 p.m. in the University Club, (Marvin Center third floor), at which golden membership cards will be issued for the 50th year class and for previous graduates who have not yet received theirs.

(more)

The class co-chairmen of the reunion are the Hon. J. William Fulbright, LLB, 1934, and LLD, 1959 (Honorary), former U.S. Senator from Arkansas, and Eugene C. Carusi, LLB, 1934, former GW trustee.

The honorary chairman is Dr. Jacob Burns, LLB, 1924, and LLD, 1970 (Honorary), who will be celebrating his 60th anniversary.

Spouses and guests are welcome. For more information, call 676-4999.

##